

DAY 13 INTRODUCTION

Today you are going back to your blog. You want to look at your Google Analytics account to see if you are starting to get some traffic.

You are going to update your blog with some keyword relevant new articles, which you found using Market Samurai.

It will be interesting to see if you have started to get some traffic already. Remember to visit the forums and tell your results too. Ed Dale and the gang would love to hear results from participants.